VETERANS WANT ROOMS IN TOWN

And Most of those from Pennsylvania are Securing them. Old Soldiers from Other States Must go into Big Camp.

That the majority of Pennsylvania's veterans, who come to Gettysburg for the battle anniversary celebration next summer, will be given accommodations in the hotels and homes of town, and will not go into the big camp, is indicated by the frequent requests received by local people for rooms and board. Scarcely a person in town who makes a business of catering to the tourist trade has not received requests for accommodations next July.

Many of the old soldiers making these plans were here at the time of the Pennsylvania monument dedication several years ago, when the town was filled to its capacity, and realize fully what will be the condition next July. Taking advantage of this knowledge, which is not possessed by their less fortunate friends from other states, they have secured many of the available places.

Other people in town are giving no promises and say they will take the first who apply next summer but will make no reservations with the possibility of being disappointed and left without any one at all. From the way the demand for rooms is increasing there is no doubt whatever that the town will be "sold out" long before the opening of the celebration.

This will result in old soldiers from other states being forced to take what they can get in the camp. Every effort will be made to make them comfortable but many will bring members of their families along and will have to be separated from them as veterans, and veterans only, will be allowed in the camp, according to the War Department men now in charge of things.

THOSE GRAY UNIFORMS

"Who are these Grand Army veterans that object to the presence of the Confederate uniforms at the Gettysburg celebration in July which will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the decisive battle of the Civil War?" asks the New York World, which continues,

"They may be good men, but they are sadly misguided.

"Surely none of them could have been with Reynolds and Buford and Wadsworth in that desperate first day's fighting which made this peaceful little Pennsylvania town the turning point of the rebellion.

"They cannot have fought in Birney's division on that disastrous second day, when Longstreet crumpled up Sickle's corps and left the fate of the nation hanging by a thread.

"They cannot have been with Warren and Vincent in that death grapple which ended only when Hood's men were finally driven from Little Round Top. It was there that O'Rourke, the pride of his class at West Point, was killed at the head of the One Hundred and Fortieth New York. No survivor of that regiment would make such a protest.

"They cannot have belonged to the First Miinesota, which earned a place all its own that day in the Valhalla of heroes, or to the Fifth New Hampshire, which lost more killed than in wounded, among its dead being Colonel Cross who used to boast that his regiment dared not go back without orders.

"They cannot have been George Stannard's Vermont Brigade, or have seen the mortally wounded Cushing, who commanded a battery of artillery, fire a last shot from his guns as he gaily saluted his general and then passed into eternal peace.

"They cannot have been with Hancock's Second corps, which beat back Pickett's historic charge in the afternoon of the third day, after Armistead had planted his flags in the midst of the Union guns on Cemetery Ridge. The men of that corps would want to see those flags again, and to see the men in gray who carried them up to the Union batteries. They still remember how the dying Confederate Armistead sent his watch and spurs to the wounded Hancock to be forwarded to his relatives in the South. Before the war Hancock and Armistead had been chums, and in spite of war, the old friendship was vanquished only by death itself.

"Perhaps these objectors to the Confederate uniform were not at Gettysburg at all; but in any event they have missed the meaning of the semi-centennial celebration. This is not to be a gathering of Northerners or of Southerners, but of American citizens, with one flag, one nation and one history, and common memories of the most momentous struggle in the annals of human liberty.

"If Meade and Hancock and Reynolds and Howard and Slocum were alive they would be the first to insist that Lee's veterans should wear the gray again. They would want to see the men who fought with Longstreet and Jubal Early and Jeb Stuart and Hood and Pickett and Ewell in the uniform that belonged to them, and they would want to see the tattered stars and bars at the head of the regiments that carried them fifty years ago.

"That is what Gettysburg means in 1913. That is the only kind of a celebration worth having."

PLAN BETTER BOROUGH LAWS

Gettysburg and New Oxford Represented at Meeting of Officials from Various State Boroughs at Harrisburg.

A plan to codify the borough laws which have not undergone such a process since 1851 was considered this week at a meeting in Harrisburg of representatives of about 50 of these municipilities from all over the state. Gettysburg was represented by Robert E. Wible, and New Oxford by Raymond Staub. Mr. Staub was elected secretary of the association.

Deputy Attorney General Hargest said in an address that the borough laws were greatly in need of codification and simplification; that by reason of the great increase in the population and wealth of the various small communities conditions had changed materially in such municipalities and that the laws of the state are obsolete, indefinite and, in some cases, vague and beyond the understanding of the borough official.

City Clerk Miller, of Harrisburg, in a short address, suggested that the convention draw up an act providing for a state department of commission of municipal affairs and that the local health boards in municipalities should be replaced by deputies of the state board of health.

The question of reducing the number of councilmen was taken up by Charles Walters, of Chambersburg. He urged that the number be reduced and that they be elected at large. On this point A. L. Brown, of Beaver Falls, and W. W. Hall, of West Pittston, suggested that councilmen should be paid for their services.

The committee on taxation and finance reported that it would draw up bills providing that one-fourth of the personal tax collected and returned by the state to the county should be returned to the municipality where collected; that all taxes on borough indebtedness should be wiped out; that boroughs should have the right to tax the physical property of public service corporations paying state taxes.

CARS DERAILED

Western Maryland Tracks were Blocked near Thurmont.

Two cars and a caboose of extra east-bound Western Maryland freight No. 727 in charge of Conductor G. A. Saunders and Engineman John T. McPherson, were derailed Thursday afternoon about 2.30 o'clock at Graceham, just east of Thurmont, on the main track of the Western Maryland Railway. The train which consisted of about 60 cars, mostly empties was proceeding at a speed of about thirty miles an hour when the mishap occurred. Fortunately no person was in the caboose when it left the rails. Although the derailment occurred on the Eastern Division of the Western Maryland the wrecking train was sent from Hagerstown to clear the tracks which was accomplished about 10 o'clock at night. The passenger trains were detoured via Highfield and Emory Grove.

HAVE ARRANGED GOOD SCHEDULE

Foot Ball Schedule for Next Fall will be a Good One. Strong Teams as Opponents. Franklin and Marshall again.

Athletic authorities at the college are preparing for a specially strong foot ball schedule next fall and the team will have one of the best arrays of opponents which have yet been secured.

Several changes have been made over the schedules of the past few years. George Washington University, at Washington, has been substituted for Ursinus. The game will be played at Washington and will be a good change for a number of reasons. The Ursinus contest was never a good financial proposition, the treatment received at their hands last Fall was thought far from satisfactory, and other considerations also played a part in the change. Gettysburg has not had athletic relations with George Washington for some years but they were always satisfactory.

Albright will likely be a home game instead of Lebanon Valley. The latter school has never put a specially creditable team in the field and sports at Albright have been making such steady improvement in recent years that they are judged a more fitting rival.

It will be a matter of gratification to gridiron followers here to know that the old-Thanksgiving Day game with Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster will again be played this year. Last year F. and M. substituted Lehigh for Gettysburg, following a disagreement over dates and the closing game of the season will be the one which has always been looked forward to with pleasure by Gettysburg men.

Dickinson will be played at Carlisle, Penn State at State College, Johns Hopkins at Baltimore, the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, and Bucknell will likely be played at Harrisburg. For this last game everything has been arranged except the securing of the grounds about which there is some difficulty but, it is believed, they will be found available later on.

The matter of securing a coach is now being attended to by those in charge of athletics at college but nothing definite is announced.

"COLDS"

Caused By Lowered Vital Resistance. What To Do For This

It is a well known fact that when a person is run-down, stomach out of order, or the system overloaded with waste matter, vital resistance is lowered and colds and coughs are easily contracted.

The safest and surest method we know to overcome this condition is by taking our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. In the most natural manner Vinol tones up the digestive organs, promotes a hearty appetite, enriches the blood and creates strength for every organ in the body and as a specific for chronic coughs, colds and bronchial troubles Vinol is unexcelled.

Mr. Albert Porter, of Richmond Hill, L. I., says: "All winter I had a bad cold and a cough which I could not get rid of, and was badly run-down besides. Vinol was the one remedy which cured my cough and made me well in every."

Try a bottle of Vinol on our offer to return your money if it fails to help you. The People's Drug Store.

GRAFT POLICEMEN ARE SUSPENDED

Four High Officials in New York Accused.

"SYSTEM'S" SECRETS BARED

Captain Walsh Confesses and Says He Divided Vice Tribute With a Higher Official.

New York, Feb. 7. — Rhinelander Waldo, New York's commissioner of police, suspended from duty Thomas Walsh, police captain.

Walsh confessed, while ill and in bed, that he was a grafter and had shared graft with an inspector of police and another "man higher up."

The commissioner took action as soon as he had confirmed from the district attorney's office the authenticity of Walsh's confession.

Dennis Sweeney, inspector of police, and Police Captains Hussey and Thompson were also suspended from the force by Mr. Waldo. Sweeney was the man mentioned in the graft confession made by Walsh.

On Monday, if well enough, Walsh will tell his narrative to the grand jury. Soon thereafter numerous indictments are expected.

Mr. Waldo conferred with Mayor Gaynor concerning the latest revelations in his much-investigated department, steadily under fire since last July, when Herman Rosenthal, the "squealing" gambler, was murdered at the instigation of Charles Becker, a former police lieutenant, now in Sing Sing prison under sentence of death for the crime.

The trail of police graft, upon which Mr. Whitman set out last summer, is declared by him to have emerged from the thicket of minor exposures to an open road leading to the "men higher up." Through the remarkable confession which Walsh made to the district attorney and to be repeated to the grand jury, indictments will be sought against the police inspector and others as alleged graft takers on a large scale.

If obtained, these indictments will be the most important developments in the exposure of the "system" since the city was aroused to the alliance of its police with gambling and vice by the murder of Rosenthal.

The statement of Walsh to Mr. Whitman embraced these points:

That Fox was his collector and that the statements made by Fox as to the extent of his graft collections were true in every detail.

That he (Walsh) paid 50 cents on every dollar received from Fox to the inspector whom he named.

That he and the inspector together raised the $1000 which was given to Fox to give to George A. Sipp that his former hotelkeeper and graft payer might be kept from testifying as a witness against Fox.

That he and the inspector together put up the $5000 cash bail which was used to get Fox out of jail following his arrest.

That the inspector's share of the collections were divided with a man higher up in the police department.

Mr. Whitman heard Walsh's statement first and then called in as witnesses Assistant District Attorney Groehl, Dr. Upton, Walsh's physician, and Mrs. Walsh.

Walsh expressed willingness to sign an affidavit immediately, but upon Mr. Whitman's advice this proceeding was postponed until later, when the district attorney will visit Walsh's home again and take the complete statement.

Walsh's confession was forced in part by charges made by Eugene Fox, a policeman, who pleaded guilty to graft collection last Monday and turned upon Walsh as the man next above him. Fearing that a heart weakness, with which he has long been troubled, might foreshadow his death, and wishing to purge his conscience, Captain Walsh admitted taking vice graft to the extent of perhaps $100,000 in a single police precinct. Half of this amount he turned over to the men "higher up."

Walsh said he had no knowledge of the amount collected in the four other police precincts of his inspection district, but he believed it to be quite as large.

SALVADOR PRESIDENT, SHOT AND CUT, MAY DIE

Washington Views Attempted Assassination With Alarm.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Little hope is entertained for the recovery of President Araujo, of Salvador, who while seated in the Monicque Bolivar was attacked by five assassins, shot several times and struck on the back of the head with a machete, which inflicted a wound from the back of his head around to his nostrils.

According to a report from American Minister Heimke, at San Salvador, the surgeons believe the president is dying. Martial law has been proclaimed throughout the republic as a precaution against any attempt to overturn the federal government because of the attempted assassination.

One of the culprits, Virginius Latco, was captured. Minister Heimke reported that the authorities are on the trail of the other four and expect to arrest them shortly.

It is expected in Washington that the removal of President Araujo from power in Central America may prove the spark needed to start a general conflagration in Central America.

It is common knowledge from Washington to Panama that the turbulent element in all Latin America north of the canal is planning to have its inning after March 4.

The Latin Americans are making all sorts of plans, based entirely on the conviction that President-elect Wilson will be opposed to using the forces of the United States to prevent disorder in Central America.

BRINGS TUBERCULER SERUM

Pittsburgh Physician to Try Friedmann Culture on His Wife.

New York, Feb. 7.—Hurrying homeward from abroad with tuberculosis serum in his possession that he says is the first of the widely discussed Friedmann culture to be brought to his country, Dr. Austin B. Heid, a physician of Pittsburgh, arrived on the steamship Potsdam from Europe and at once took a train for his home, where his wife, a consumptive, awaits the arrival of what Dr. Heid hopes will be a cure for her.

Dr. Heid has enough bacilli only for one patient, he declared. That patient will be his wife.

Dr. Heid was met at quarantine by Dr. Milton H. Foster, of the Ellis Island health service, and questioned in behalf of the United States government about the Friedmann cure. Dr. Heid told Dr. Foster that he had been convinced of the efficacy of the cure.

ALLIES AIMING AT CONSTANTINOPLE

Plan Attack on Ottoman Capital From the Sea.

DRIV.NG THE TURKS BACK

Bulgarians Trying to Clear the Dardanelles For Passage of Greek Fleet. Hope For Peace Soon.

London, Feb. 7.—The Turkish army occupying the Peninsula of Gallipoli and defending the Dardanelles suffered a defeat at the hands of the Bulgarian troops to the south of the River Kavak, according to a statement by the Bulgarian war office.

The Ottoman troops are said to be retreating in disorder toward the town of Bulair, a small place to the northeast of the city of Gallipoli. They are being pursued hotly by the Bulgarians.

The statement concludes that as the result of this success of the Bulgarian troops the whole coast of the Sea of Marmora as far as Bulair is now in the hands of the Balkan allies.

The main object of the Bulgarian armies, apart from the reduction of the fortress of Adrianople, was disclosed by the Sofia war office. The plan is to reach the Dardanelles Straits and clear them for the passage of the Greek fleet into the Sea of Marmora. Then the Greeks will attack Constantinople directly from the sea.

From the reports of the fighting to the north of the Peninsula of Gallipoli, King Ferdinand's troops have already occupied the villages of Modeste, Charkuel, Kavak and Bulair, which are on the neck of the peninsula. It has not yet, however, come into contact with any large force of Turkish troops, of which there are said to be 70,000 on the Gallipoli peninsula.

Notwithstanding Bulgaria's warlike attitude, the diplomats of Europe are convinced that the war will not last long.

The financial embarrassment of all the combatants and the loss of enthusiasm for the war by the peoples of the countries involved, lead to the belief that peace negotiations will soon be resumed.

The Turkish government apparently is of the same mind, for Rechad Pasha, leader of the Turkish peace delegation, has received instructions from his government to remain in London a few days longer.

TO DRAFT NEW FOOD BILL

Pennsylvania Senator Attacks Administration's Cold Storage Measure.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 7—Sensational statements concerning the state administration's cold storage bill were contained in an announcement made by Representative William H. Wilson, of Philadelphia, in which he said that a sub-committee of the public health and sanitation committee of the house would draft a stricter and more popular bill.

Further, Mr. Wilson declared that if new and rigid cold storage legislation were enacted and such legislation was not properly enforced by the administration's dairy and food department, that then the dairy and food department would be subject to a thorough investigation.

As for the commission to study leisurely the question of cold storage, Mr. Wilson denounced that as an effort to delay legislation and "evade the demands of the people." Any move to 'sidetrack" cold storage legislation, said Mr. Wilson, would be vigorously fought by himself and his friends in the house.

The administration bill was introduced into the senate by President Pro Tem. Gerberich. It sets no time limit on the storing of food. Mr. Wilson advocates the placing of a time limit so that people may not be obliged to buy food that may have been in storage for an indefinite period.

He describes the Gerberich bill as a "travesty." The several cold storage bills which have been introduced into the house were referred to a subcommittee of the health and sanitation committee. Mr. Wilson is chairman of the sub committee.

James, of Lee county, has announced that he will in reduce a bill in the house of representatives here limiting individual wealth to $10,000,000 and individual ownership of land to 1000 acres. Francis J. Pelzer, of Charleston, is reputed to be the wealthiest man in the state and is said to be worth about $1,000,000.

TO PROBE PRICE OF OIL

Department of Justice Seeks to Place Blame.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The soaring price of crude oil is being investigated by the department of justice in connection with its inquiry to determine if the decree dissolving the Standard Oil company has been violated.

The government wants to know if any of the former subsidiaries of the trust have created conditions responsible for the enormous rise and if there has been any concerted action.

Information in possession of the department alleges that some of the big companies have a year's supply of crude oil in their tanks and the present high price does not affect them, but is a burden upon smalier concerns.

The entire oil investigation in all probability will be completed before the end of February, and a report will be submitted to Attorney General Wickersham by Charles B. Morrison and Oliver E. Pagan, the attorneys in immediate charge of the inquiry.

He Hears Arguments For and Against Measure.

Washington, Feb. 7.—When President Taft gave a hearing upon the immigration bill recently passed by congress, he also had before him protests from Germany, Italy and the Netherlands against the provision to authorize the secretary of commerce and labor to place inspectors, matrons and public health service surgeons on board immigrant ships to report upon the condition and treatment of immigrants on board.

"The burden is upon those who oppose this bill," said the president in opening the hearing. "It requires a very strong showing to induce the executive to override the action of both houses of congress."

Harry Oleson, chief justice of the Chicago municipal court, representing citizens of Scandinavian descent and the Association of Foreign Language Newspapers of the United States, opposed the bill. It would draw, he said, immigrants from the large cities of Europe and not from the agricultural communities. This, he contended, would further congest the cities of the United States.

"More important than the literacy test," he declared, "is the Wasserman test of the blood."

F. S. Katzenbach, of Trenton, N. J., representing the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, said the best argument for the bill was that the senate four times within the last four months had passed the measure in some form by about a two-thirds vote. He contended that it would not keep out desirable persons, but would bring in a much better class.

Dr. L. F. Barker, president of the National Congress of Mental Hygiene, said he and other doctors believed the provision for mental and physical tests was wise.

"The number of insane and defective persons in this country is appalling," he declared. "It exceeds the total number of officers in the American army, navy and marine corps, and exceeds the number of students in all the colleges and universities of America."

USED TEAPOT FOR BANK

Woman Kept $600 Inheritance There For Fifty Years.

Allentown, Pa., Feb. 7.—With the probating of the will of Miss Rebecca Henninger, who died Jan. 15 at Stine's Corner, Lynn township, at the age of eighty-four years, it became known that for more than fifty years she had hidden in a teapot in her home the $600 in gold she inherited when still a young woman from her father.

She gives her entire estate to Henry F. Reinhard, a kinsman, with whom she lived, and whom she makes executor. She was born, lived all her days and died in one house, which was long the family homestead. She kept her inheritance in the house because she lacked confidence in the banks.

FEAR WOMAN LEAPED FROM PIER

Mrs. Emma Kerner Disappears at Atlantic City.

NURSE SUSPECTS SUICIDE

Was Missed on Steel Pier and All Signs Indicate She Jumped Into the Ocean.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 7. — Mrs. Emma Kerner, of 4104 North Broad street, Philadelphia, disappeared from the steel pier, and it is feared that she has been drowned. Coast guards are dragging for her body.

Miss Alice Taulan, nurse for Mrs. Kerner, who was an invalid, had accompanied Mrs. Kerner to the pier. She is of the opinion that her charge has committed suicide.

"Mrs. Kerner has tried to take her life on three previous occasions," Miss Taulan said, "but each time I appeared in time to prevent it."

Mrs. Kerner is about sixty years of age. She is a widow, and her husband, Charles Kerner, died three years ago. She has three sons.

When Miss Taulan noticed that Mrs. Kerner had disappeared they had been sitting near each other about half way out on the pier. Miss Taulan promptly gave the alarm.

Beside the pier rail, further out, and just beyond the structure known as marine hall, pier attaches found Mrs. Kerner's pocketbook. In the snow on the bottom of the rail was a footprint. The snow on top of the rail was disturbed.

Miss Taulan, with police, pier employes and friends, searched every corner of the pier, going into each floor in every building, even looking behind the scenery on the two stages. But there was not a trace of the missing woman.

Roller chair men and employes at the pier entrance, who know Mrs. Kerner by sight, had not seen her leave. News of her disappearance spread quickly, and soon a crowd had lined up along the boardwalk rail to watch the coast guards at their work.

"Mrs. Kerner has told me repeatedly that she was going to commit suicide," said Miss Taulan. "I was talking with friends when suddenly I missed Mrs. Kerner. Sub-consciously I remembered that I had seen her strolling out the east side of the pier. This had not struck me as alarming at the time, as Mrs. Kerner had seemed in good spirits."

300,000 PENSIONERS GET THEIR CHECKS

Mailed From Washington Under New Payment System.

Washington, Feb. 7. — The first checks paid to pensioners under the new system which did away with the eighteen agencies in various parts of the country, uniting them in Washington under one head, have just gone out, and every one of the more than $00,000 due this month were in the mail on time.

"The crucial test, the one which we were not sure we would be able to pass successfully, has been made without a hitch," said Dr. Alvah H. Thompson, in charge of the disbursements, after the last pensioner's check had been started on its way. "Because of the vast work involved in bringing in all these agencies, with their voluminous records, it was feared there would be some delay this first month, but such happily is not the case."

One of the things that pleased him most about the new method of payments, Dr. Thompson declared, was that all the checks are drawn on the treasurer of the United States.

PORCELAIN STRIKE OVER

Arbitration Committee Reaches Agreement In Trenton Dispute.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 7.—The arbitration committee selected to consider the differences between the porcelain manufacturers of this city and their 1200 striking employes, finished their work and reached an agreement which both the manufacturers and the employes had previously agreed to be bound by.

The findings provide for an increase in wages. It is provided that girl beginners, who were receiving $3.50 a week, shall be paid 10 cents an hour. It is also agreed that the manufacturers will arbitrate any disputes as to wages with committees representing the employes. This is practically recognition of the union, one of the things the strikers had been contending for.

PRAISE GIRL'S HEROISM

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Feb. 7. — Through her heroic aid in rescuing four of the five Vassar girls who tobogganed through the ice of Campus lake, Phoebe Briggs, of Sacramento, Cal., a Vassar student, was spoken of by the faculty as deserving a Carnegie medal.

Miss Briggs ran out on the thin ice, and after saving four of the girls, dived for and recovered the body of Elizabeth B. Mylod, who had slipped under the ice.

The Montenegrins.

It is only in recent years that Montenegrins have begun to appreciate the services of the hospital. Hulme Beaman, after visiting the country in 1889, wrote that the people "take very little care of their children, and only the sound and strong grow up. In after life, too, they are extremely averse to sanitary precautions or medical treatment, and a sick Montenegrin is almost synonymous with a dead man. At least he at once gives himself up and, if he recovers, looks upon it as a curious freak in nature's laws. The few who reluctantly submit to losing an arm or a leg invariably refuse anaesthetics and converse with their friends, smoking a cigarette while the knife and saw are at work."

He Didn't Know Exactly What to Do, So They Came to His Rescue.

A young author and critic, who has come to be an authority upon a certain modern phase of educaion, went a few days ago to deliver his first lecture at a girls' school. He had lectured before, but never at a young ladies' seminary, and as two white frocked, curly haired ushers led him out to the platform and he sat down beside the matronly principal among the women who made up the faculty and faced a sea of girls' faces he was young enough to feel a bit of embarrassment himself. It was rather difficult at first, but once the lecture was started things went all right.

He finished what he had to say and sat down. The audience and the matronly principal and the women who made up the faculty clapped their hands enthusiastically. Then the applause died down and silence settled upon the lecture hall. The young man sat on waiting for some one to say something, dimly conscious that a move of one kind or another was expected of him. But his lecture was finished. He had said all he had to say. There were no questions from faculty or students. A few of the girls began to fidget, but no one spoke.

The young man became unpleasantly aware that he was expected to do something and to do it at once, but he did not know what to do. He reflected miserably that he did not know the etiquette of a girls' school anyhow. And then there was a signal from the principal and a move in the audience, and the prettier of the two girl ushers approached him, a little embarrassed, a little shy, determined to do her duty.

"I'm so sorry, Mr. B.," she murmured, "but I'm afraid you'll have to—you'll have to start right this minute if you want to make your train!"—New York Times.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Johnny Kilbane Has Mapped Out a Strenuous Schedule.

Johnny Kilbane has mapped out a strenuous campaign from now until April. The featherweight champion says he intends to meet every man of his weight in the country in that time and will then rest up for the summer. At present Kilbane is in fine shape, and unless his hands go back on him he should come out of all his bouts a winner. He is the cleverest of all the men in his class.

Lajoie May Not Be Regular.

Larry Lajoie, according to reports, is not to be figured as a regular next season. The veteran can no longer stand the pace and is out of the game with injuries. Ole Oleson is responsible for the story that he is being groomed for the second base position, so that he can take Lajoie's place whenever it is necessary.

Larry by that time will have to sign a new contract, as before next season his old one, which called for a very healthy salary, will have expired. It is, of course, to be expected that the figures will be reduced, and it might happen that Larry will not be found with the Naps at all, though he would be a valuable man to use as pinch hitter, even if he could not play regularly.

New Motorcycle Invented.

England has an invention which transforms the ordinary bicycle into a self propelled machine. The auto wheel consists of a one horsepower gasoline engine, borne in a strongly made cycle wheel, which can easily be attached alongside the back wheel of an ordinary bicycle, converting it into a motorcycle. When fixed securely in place the little motor drives the auto wheel, which in turn carries the cycle and rider forward. By its use the cycle becomes a ready means of travel. Enough gasoline is carried in the tank for a ride of fifty miles.

JIM CROW BILL IN DELAWARE

Measure to Require Separate Cars or Compartments For Races.

Dover, Del., Feb. 7.—A "Jim Crow" bill was introduced in the house of representatives by Representative Owen.

It would require all railroad companies and all persons operating a railroad line in Delaware for the transportation of passengers, to provide separate cars or compartments for white and colored passengers.

A fine and imprisonment is provided for violations of the law. The bill requires that a sign, indicating for which race each compartment is set apart, be displayed. It is modelled after the Maryland law.

Arrangements were made for the members of the legislature to participate in the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson as president. The state national guard will march in the parade.

The bill providing for a joint county and city building in Wilmington, at a cost of $1,400,000, was introduced in the senate.

SULZER RECEIVES CASTRO

Former Dictator of Venezuela Dines With New York Governor.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Governor Sulzer entertained General Castro at lunch and cordially received the Venezuelan at the executive chamber.

"I have always been a friend of the Latin-American republics," said the governor, "and if I had been in congress I would have introduced a resolution opposing the action of Secretary Nagel in forbidding the general to enter the country. For the sake of our relations with these sister republics we should treat him with consideration."

The general was shown about the capitol.

"I'm glad to meet you," said Speaker Smith. "If ever I go to Venezuela I'll look you up." Castro's face was a study.

"I shall try to get back to Venezuela," he said, "in time to receive the kind genttleman."

Plan Suffragists' Bank.

New York, Feb. 8.—Suffragettes are planning to have a part in the finances as well as in the politics of the country. A LOP HORNED COW

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.

Ask any farmer you will and he will tell you that a lop horned cow is a trouble maker. When she has a bobbed tail to boot then you look out. You couldn't give her away to any one knowing cow character. She will jump any fence to eat her fill of corn and then seek to destroy what she can't eat.

There had been peace in Woods county for a dozen years when a rumpus suddenly fell upon the land and changed the course of at least two lives and gave a hundred others something besides crops to talk about.

Farmer Jepson, widower, lived four miles from Ackron on the county line road, and Jane Schonfield, widow and farmer, lived three miles west of him on the Red Bridge road. They had lived thus for five years and only knew each other by name. The five years might have become twenty had not an old lop horned cow stepped in to give the parties an introduction.

The cow was owned by the widow. Besides being lop horned she was bobtailed, wild eyed and had various bad habits, one of which was jumping six rail fences and wandering about nights. These promenades sometimes led her miles away and into strange pastures. The first time Farmer Jepson saw her she was in the midst of his cornfield and had cleared about half an acre of the juicy stalks. He was a good man, but he swore at her and called her names. He also tried his best to kill her on the spot. A week later the cow called again to see how the corn was coming on, and after half killing her the farmer sent word that "if that old critter of a cow steps hoof on my land again there'll be a lawsuit to make things rumble!"

The cow didn't hurry matters any. She waited until Mr Jepson had transplanted his cabbage plants and they had got fairly growing, and then she called one night and helped herself to 250 of them. The first the widow knew of the midnight raid was when she received a summons from a justice of the peace. Suit had been commenced by Farmer Jepson to recover $250 damages.

"So he's sued me, has he?" observed the widow as she doubled up her fists and fire came to her eyes. "Well, we'll see who comes out ahead."

After two or three adjournments the case came to trial, and it was in the courtroom that plaintiff and defendant first saw each other. Both were surprised, and both said something to themselves. What the farmer said was:

"Well, by thunder! I expected to see a fat and homely old two fisted widder, and I find her a good lookin' little bit of a female who ought to be sittin' on a husband's knee. Wish I'd seen her before I begun this suit. The blame old cow damaged me, but I hain't goin' to swear very hard agin no woman like that."

"Lands o' massy, but he hain't no mean man!" exclaimed the widow after a look at the farmer. "Why, they said he was a big boss and bluffer and wanted to bulldoze me 'cause I'm all alone in the world. Say, now, but they are all wrong. He hain't the kind to bluff and pitch in. Wish he had come to see me about the old cow. If he had I'd have chained her up. Wonder how hard he'll swear agin me?"

She was soon to know. The plaintiff's lawyer in opening the case said it was an aggravated case of trespass and damage and that the $250 mentioned wasn't really half what they should have sued for. Then he went on to tell of what a defiant woman the defendant was and wound up by stating his hopes that the jury would render a verdict without leaving the box. Then the plaintiff was called to the witness chair, and, to the surprise of the widow and the disgust of his lawyer, he said he had forgotten the message the woman returned to him. He followed that up by declaring that his feelings had simply been shocked and that he had fully recovered from the shock in a minute and a half. As to the corn and cabbage, perhaps $10 would pay the bill. If a verdict for that amount was rendered he would take it on the installment plan at a dollar a month. He had once owned a lophorned, bobtailed cow, and he knew how hard it was to keep them at home o' nights.

"You jackass, but you have lost your case!" hissed his lawyer as the witness stepped down with a smile in the direction of the widow, whose lawyer was whispering to her:

"Now you get up there and give us some hot talk and your case is won. We've got Jepson on the skedaddle."

There was no hot talk from the widow. On the contrary, she cooed like a dove. She admitted to the ownership of the jumping, predatory cow, but was quite willing to pay reasonable damages. She didn't doubt the plaintiff's shocked feelings and was sorry for them and wished he had hit the old cow with the ax. One of the results of the suit was a verdict for 6 cents' damages, and another was that Farmer Jepson would call at her home for the money. He kept his word. A week later he drove up to the door and after an hour's interview was asked to call again. Three months later his disgusted lawyer was heard to exclaim:

"Prettiest case I ever had and dead sure of a verdict, and Jepson knocks it all in the head by falling in love with the defendant! Yes, they were married yesterday."

Subscribers to Irish Derby.

King George of England, the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Derby and several other prominent sportsmen, and H. P. Whitney are among the subscribers to the Irish derby of 1914, which closed the other day. In all ninety-five entries were obtained. For the series of three-year-old races, which form such a feature at the Phoenix park meetings, no fewer than 630 entries have been received for next year, which points to the healthy state of the sport in Ireland.

Give a Clean Milkman Your Trade

Our dairies are sanitary. We promise you germless milk. You will get from us nothing but rich milk, and the cost will be six cents per quart.

That is our proposition. We ask you to try us one day.

Get one quart and make one milk dish with it. Learn the flavor that comes from whole milk.

Serve it once in your coffee. Let your children drink one glass. Learn what pure milk means.

Find out, for one day, how convenient it is to have rich milk or cream when you want it.

We refer you to scores of your neighbors. We are their milkmen. Ask how they like our milk.

Then give us one chance to do for you what we have done for them.

Not Half-Milk

When you taste your first milk dish made with our milk, you'll be surprised at the richness and flavor.

You'll wonder what we have added. But we add nothing at all.

It is only the richest milk, fresh from the cow.

Then Our Milk is Pasteurized

It is bottled by machinery, no human hand touches it.

The bottles are all washed by a steam bottle washer.

Dirty bottles are never refilled fron the wagons.

A clean bottle is used for each customer.

Your children can drink our milk without risk. You can serve it without serving disease.
